5. Implementation of e-governance in area of teaching and learning process

E-Contents development as Innovations by the Faculty in Teaching and Learning:-

Faculty members of all departments have begun recording the video lectures with QR code, and made them available online for students and these videos are being used as supportive educational tool. Teachers are educated to concentrate on following key points,

- Technical Contents
- Video Lecture Recording of subject teachers
- You tube channel of every department
- Effective use of Virtual Lab
- NPTEL video lectures
- Tools for recording
- Content Delivery
- Digital Library
- Active Learning and Students Engagement

Highlights:

- Every department has its own you tube channel. All faculty members have uploaded their recorded video lectures on respective you tube channel. The link of you tube channel is circulated to students and students are watching the recorded lectures as per their requirement. For example the link for you tube channel of Electrical department is https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCZPJksW4-DogmRhEU4q4-NA , Link for IT department Youtube channel is https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCaZMj8x-MKtPhiq7RUr-3gQ
- Video lectures are prepared as per university prescribed curriculum for all the theory and laboratory courses. Besides that few topics beyond curriculum are covered.
- Each course video lecture series is outlined with clear objectives, outcomes and plan.
- It serves as any time anywhere learning aid and own motivation for students to learn the course without any constraints fostering the habit of self-study.
- The videos and related material are reviewed by the competent authority and senior teachers. Based on suggestions and recommendations of experts corrective measures are taken to improve the quality of video lectures and learning material.
- These learning resources are available for the scholars for extension and enhancements.
