Introduction:

A Parents' Meet was organized by the First Year Department at SND College of Engineering & Research Center, Yeola, for the academic year 2024-25, Semester II. The event took place with the aim of fostering strong communication between parents, teachers, and the institution. This meeting provided an opportunity for parents to gain insights into their child's academic progress,

Attendance:

A total of 90 parents visited the campus, showing a great deal of interest in their children's academic and extracurricular progress. Their active participation demonstrated a keen interest in collaborating with the college in the educational journey of their wards.

Program Details:

1. Inauguration Ceremony: The program was inaugurated by the Principal of SND COE & RC. Dr. D.M. Yadav, who welcomed the parents and highlighted the importance of their involvement in the academic and overall development of their children. The event was also graced by the presence of one of the parents who shared their positive experiences and thoughts on how the collaboration between parents and the college enhances the quality of education.
2. Class Teachers' Speech: Following the inauguration, the Class Teachers delivered their speeches. They provided a comprehensive overview of the academic schedule, attendance requirements, and the individual progress of students in their respective classes. They also encouraged parents to maintain open communication with the college staff for any concerns regarding their child's progress.
3. Speech by HOD: Dr. V.R. Nikam, the Head of the Department (HOD) of the First Year, then gave an in-depth presentation to the parents. The presentation covered various aspects of the academic curriculum, teaching methodologies, departmental activities, and support mechanisms in place for students. Dr. Nikam emphasized the role of parents in motivating students to excel academically while also participating in extracurricular and co-curricular activities.
